CHARLES-TOWN, September 27.

Yeſterday the General Aſſembly of this Province met purſuant to the Governor's Proclamation; and this Day the Commons Houſe made Choice of the Honorable JAMES MICHIE, Eſq; to be their Speaker (in the Room of the Hon. Andrew Rutledge, Eſq; lately gone off the Province for his Health,) and preſented him to His Excellency, who was pleaſed to approve and confirm their Choice, and to deliver the following SPEECH to both Houſes.

Honorable Gentlemen of His Majeſty's Council, Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen,

WHEN the General Aſſembly meets in Conſequence of the Governor's Summons, it is natural for them to expect, to have the Reaſons laid before them that induced Him to call them together; but the preſent deep Diſtreſs of the Province, ſpeaks thoſe Reaſons, in ſuch plain and moving Language, as renders it almoſt unneceſſary for me to mention them: Whoever opens his Eyes, may read them, in too legible Characters, in the Ruin and Deſolation here, and, I fear, in moſt parts of the Country.

It has pleaſed God lately to viſit this Province with a dreadful Hurricane, which proved fatal to the Lives of ſeveral of His Majeſty's Subjects, damaged a great Number of Houſes, entirely demoliſhed our Fortifications, ruined the High Roads, broke down Bridges, and in a great Number of Places ſpoiled the Crops; but who can ſay, to Him that doth according to His Will among the Inhabitants of this Earth, What doſt Thou? or ſtay His Hand? It is therefore the Duty of all of us upon this ſolemn and awful Occaſion, to humble ourſelves before Him.

From the Experience of many Years, I am ſenſible of the happy Influence of the Advice and Aſſiſtance of the General Aſſembly, and therefore I the more readily have Recourſe to them: As you are now met, I ſhall recommend Two Heads to you, to be the principal Subjects of your preſent Conſideration. In the firſt Place, we ought to endeavour to render the Lives of His Majeſty's Subjects as ſecure as our preſent Circumſtances will permit, againſt all Attempts from without: In the next Place, we ought to endeavour to make them as comfortable as we can. Fortifications are undoubtedly a great Security againſt any Foreign Force, and, as ours are now ruined, it is my Duty to put you in Mind, that they ſhould be repaired; and I hope, you will make the beſt Proviſion that you are able for this great and neceſſary Work.

In the next Place, I recommend to you, to prepare ſome Law, for preventing the Exportation of Corn, that the Poor may be able to purchaſe Proviſions at a moderate Price: This may be done by a very ſhort, and, I am ſure will be, a very ſalutary Law; and you may aſſure yourſelves of my Vigilance and Care for the due Execution of it.

There are other, I cannot ſay ſmaller, Matters, that alſo require your immediate Attention, Two Veſſels are at preſent in this Harbour, with upward of 800 Foreign Proteſtants on board; and Two others are hourly expected, with the like Number: This will be a conſiderable Addition to our Strength, and if they are comfortably ſettled, they will not only by that Means be kept here, but they will encourage many others to come; but as there is a Paragraph in a late Law relating to this Matter, that has been found to be attended with great Inconveniencies, I muſt recommend to you to reviſe and alter it.

I am loth to accumulate any more Buſineſs, at a Time when your own Affairs make it neceſſary for ſo many of you to be in the Country, but it is proper, at all Times, to have a watchful and attentive Eye upon Indian Affairs, and even the ſettling of thoſe Foreign Proteſtants in proper Places may be made ſubſervient to our Security in that Quarter.

JAMES GLEN.

Toulon, May 7. The utmoſt diligence is uſed to equip the ſquadron which is to put to ſea next month. The Redoutable, of 74 guns, was launch'd on friday, and the Ocean, of 80 guns, will immediately be put on the ſtocks in its place. The Hector is begun upon: So that this department begins to re-aſſume its ancient luſtre. M. Milet de Murot, the king's Inginier in ordinary, ſets out to-morrow for Modena, with commiſſion to accompliſh the works of the port of Lavenza.

Liſbon, May 1. The ſhips which we ſent to the coaſt of Moſambique, to protect our ſettlements, have 1300 regular troops on board, beſides a great number of inginiers, and materials for building the forts which are deſigned to be erected there. As our miniſtry flatters itſelf with receiving great advantages from this colony; the defence of it is looked upon as a matter of importance.

Ratiſbon, May 22. The affair of Eaſt-Frieſland makes a great noiſe in the dyet; the king of Great-Britain, as elector of Hanover, having deſired that it ſhould be taken into conſideration, the dyet has for ſome days paſt proceeded thereupon. The miniſter of Brandenbourgh, pretending that this affair ſhould have been previouſly communicated to him, has made a very ſtrong proteſt againſt the dyet's proceeding: The conſequence of this affair fixes the attention of the public.

Stockholm, May 16. It is decided, that the marriage of Guſtavus, Prince-royal of Sweden, with the princeſs Sophia Magdalen, of Denmark, ſhall take place as ſoon as the parties ſhall have attained the age requiſite.

London, May 28. On the 1ſt of June, according to an act of Parliament, the vigorous proſecutions againſt the houſes of ill fame is to commence; the Juſtices have now more power in their hands to ſuppreſs them, and the virtuous part of mankind are in hopes of finding our ſtreets clear of thoſe Nuſances to ſociety. To ſuppreſs the receptacles of lewdneſs entirely, in a city at once ſo vicious and oppulent as this, is impoſſible; but it is greatly in the power of the conſtables and other Officers of the night, to ſtop the wandering ſtars in their progreſs; for every creature ſo abandoned as to walk the ſtreets, carries in her air, dreſs, and behaviour, the marks of proſtitution ſo very ſtrong, that a man any way acquainted with the town, can ſcarcely miſtake them. It is from theſe wretches that the calamities of incontinence are chiefly derived; while people are walking ſoberly home to their houſes, and without any thought of lewdneſs, thoſe enemies of the ſpecies, entrap them as they walk, excite them by affected blandiſhments to accompany them home, and then inflame them to a dangerous embrace. By theſe means the bodies of our youth are enervated, their minds diſſipated in luxurious pleaſures, and a general ſpirit of profaneneſs and irreligion lays the foundation of ruining our ſtate.

GOD SAVE THE KING.

In the COUNCIL-CHAMBER, September the 18th, 1752.

PRESENT,

His Excellency the GOVERNOR,

The Hon^ble. { James Kinloch, Charles Pinckney, Hector Berrenger de Beaufain } Esq^rs.

HIS Excellency the Governor, and His Majesty's Council, having received Information, that divers wicked and ill-disposed Persons, regardless of the Laws of God or of the Province, and divesting themselves of all Humanity for their Fellow-Subjects, take Advantage of the Calamity with which it hath pleased God to afflict the Inhabitants, by the late dreadful Hurricane, and go about picking up, purloining and plundering, the Goods, Wares and Merchandize, Houshold Furniture, Sails, Rigging, Timber, Boards, Shingles, and other Things, carried away by the Violence of the Wind and Waves and left in different Parts of Charles-Town, and elsewhere; and His Excellency, and the Council, greatly sympathizing with the unhappy Sufferers, and being desirous to protect all His Majesty's Subjects in their just Properties, are determined to discourage and prevent, to the utmost of their Power, the above abominable and iniquitous Practice: And to that End, they Order all His Majesty's Justices of the Peace, Constables and other Officers and Ministers, when they shall receive Information, upon Oath, against any white Person concerned, or said to be concerned, in these wicked Practices, or when there is reasonable Ground of Suspicion thereof, that they bind over such Person, to answer the same at the next General Sessions, or commit him or her to Custody, to be dealt with according to Law: And that no Negro or other Slave, shall presume to carry off or take away, any Goods, Wares or Merchandize, Houshold Furniture, Sails, Rigging, Timber, Boards, Shingles, or other Things, that have been wrecked or carried away by the Violence of the Wind and Waves, and left in Charles-Town or elsewhere; except in the Presence of, or by a Permit from the Person claiming or having Charge of such Goods: And it is hereby Ordered, that all Negroes or other Slaves offending herein, shall be sent to the Work-house, there to be corrected for such Offence.

CHARLES-TOWN, Sept. 19.

The most violent and terrible HURRICANE that ever was felt in this province, happened on Friday the [illegible] instant in the morning; and has reduced this [illegible] to a very melancholly situation: As the [illegible]ers will expect a particular account from [illegible] have endeavoured to obtain the best [illegible] possibly could of this deplorable calamity, [illegible] impossible, at [illegible] devastation we have sustained from the [illegible] of the wind and waves.

On the 14th in the evening, it began to blow very hard, the wind being at N E. and the sky looked wild and threatening: It continued blowing from the same point, with little variation, 'till about 4 o'clock in the morning of the 15th, at which time it became more violent, and rained, increasing very fast 'till about 9, when the flood came in like a bore, filling the harbour in a few minutes: Before 11 o'clock, all the vessels in the harbour were on shore, except the Hornet man of war, which rode it out by cutting away her main-mast; all the wharfs and bridges were ruined, and every house, store, &c. upon them, beaten down, and carried away (with all the goods, &c. therein), as were also many houses in the town; and abundance of roofs, chimneys, &c. almost all the tiled or slated houses, were uncovered; and great quantities of merchandize, &c. in the stores on the Bay-street, damaged, by their doors being burst open: The town was likewise overflowed, the tide or sea having rose upwards of Ten feet above the high-water mark at spring-tides, and nothing was now to be seen but ruins of houses, canows, wrecks of pettiaguas and boats, masts, yards, incredible quantities of all sorts of timber, barrels, staves, shingles, houshold and other goods, floating and driving, with great violence, thro' the streets, and round about the town. The inhabitants, finding themselves in the midst of a tempestuous sea, the wind still continuing, the tide (according to its common course) being expected to flow 'till after one o'clock, and many of the people being already up to their necks in water in their houses, began now to think of nothing but certain death: But, [Here we must record as signal an instance of the immediate interposition of the Divine Providence, as ever appeared.] they were soon delivered delivered from their apprehenſions; ſoft, about 10 minutes after 11 o'clock, the wind veered to the E. S.E. S. and S.W. very quick, and then (tho' it continued its violence, and the ſea beat and daſhed every where with amazing impetuoſity) the waters fell above 5 feet in the ſpace of 10 minutes, without which unexpected and ſudden fall, every houſe and inhabitant in this town, muſt, in all probability, have periſhed: And before 3 o'clock the hurricane was entirely over. — Many people were drowned, and others much hurt by the fall of houſes.

At Sullivant's iſland, the peſt-houſe was carried away, and of 15 people that were there 9 are loſt, the reſt ſaved themſelves by adhering ſtrongly to ſome of rafters of the houſe when it fell, upon which they were driven ſome miles beyond the iſland, to Hobcaw: At Fort-Johnſon, the barracks were beat down, moſt of the guns diſmounted, and their carriages carried away: At Craven's and Granville's baſtions, and the batteries about this town, the cannon were likewiſe diſmounted: The Mermaid man of war, which had juſt gone up to Hobcaw, to heave down, was drove aſhore not far from the careening-place: The ſhip Lucy, of and for London, John Bulman maſter, which lay wind-bound in Rebellion road, dragg'd her anchors, drove by the fort and this town, and ran aſhore upon a marſh about 7 miles up Cooper-River: A new veſſel was drove off the ſtocks, and wreck'd at Mr. Wright's: The ſchooner Nancy, John Baddely, 3 other ſchooners, and the ſloop Nancy, John Babb maſter, all of this port, aſhore in Col. Heron's paſture: Another new veſſel was wreck'd near Mr. Scott's: And one but lately begun, with the ſnow Induſtry, belonging to Mr. David Brown, aſhore on the green near his houſe: Capt. Walker's piſtoon boat, againſt the governor's houſe; and his ſloop Hungary-deavour, bound for Jamaica after beating, French Excellency's coach-houſe, ſtable, &c. Cochran and [illegible] againſt Mr. Rapp's houſe [illegible]. And in her hull entered: 2 or 3 pettiauguas [illegible] againſt Dr. Caw's houſe: A ſmall ſchoo[illegible] up cloſe againſt the old Cuſtom-houſe door; [illegible] of Mr. Edwards's pilot-boats, to Mr. Tho. S[illegible]; Several boats, &c. againſt Mr. Price's: The ſloop Katharine, of New-York, Richard Manley maſter, bound for Halifax, and the ſloop Induſtry, of and for Rhode-Iſland, aſhore upon the head of Mr. Beresford's wharf: The ſnow Charming Nancy, of and for Hull, on the head of Capt. Simmons's, near the Council-Chamber: The brigt Peggy & Sally, of and for Briſtol, William James maſter, againſt the curtain-line, between Mr. Tho. Elliott's and Mr. Motte's: The ſloop Henry, Henry Cregier maſter, of and for New-York, againſt the Exchange or New-Market; where Mr. Edwards's other pilot-boat is wreck'd: The ſnow Dove, John Tuppen, bound for Cape-Fear, on the head of Mr. Eveleigh's wharf: A ſmall ſchooner againſt the curtain-line, near the Dove: The brigt. Two Friends, of and for Falmouth, Robert Johns maſter, beat down ſome houſes, and lies on the weſt ſide of Church-ſtreet, along-ſide of Mr. John Mathewes's: The ſhip Upton, of Liverpoole, lately arrived from Rotterdam, which lay up Aſhley-River, was drove a great way into the marſh near Wappoo: The ſloop Polly, George Gore, bound for Barbados; the ſchooner Elizabeth, Alexander McGillivray, of this port, for Jamaica; the ſloop Suſannah, Amos Minot, alſo of this port; the ſchooner Baulk, with 8 or 10 other ſmall ſchooners, own'd here, and 3 or 4 pilot-boats, are drove, ſome into the woods, ſome into corn-fields, and others far into the marſhes, on and about James-Iſland, Wappoo, &c. ——— For about 30 miles round Charles-Town, there is hardly a plantation that has not loſt every out-houſe upon it. — All our roads are ſo fill'd with trees blown and broke down, that travelling is rendered extremely difficult; and hardly a fence was left ſtanding in the town or country.—Our loſs in fine timber-trees, is almoſt incredible; and we have ſuffered greatly alſo, in the loſs of cattle, ſheep, hogs, and all kinds of proviſion.

From Winyaw and Port-Royal, our accounts are much more favourable than were expected, no damage having been done to the ſhipping in thoſe harbours, and very little to the houſes, as the hurricane was hardly felt at either place.

Yeſterday arrived Capt. Gardner, from Providence, who ſays he felt the hurricane near St. Auguſtine, but received no damage; that he ſpoke with a large brigt. off this bar, in the morning, belonging to Whitehaven, and bound from Antigua for Cape-Fear; and that he ſaw part of a wreck, whoſe quarter was painted green.

This day arrived Capt. Comer, from Port-Royal, who has brought in 5 negroes and 2 ſeamen, which he took out of the ſhip Africa, of and from Barbados for this port, John Dorrington maſter, lying at anchor amongſt the breakers off North-Ediſto: And Miles Tedar, maſter of the ſnow Dolly & Betſey, of and for this port, from Jamaica.

Capt. Dorrington met with a violent ſtorm, about 7 leagues to the eaſtward of this place, on wedneſday laſt, that continued 'till the next afternoon, in which his ſhip loſt all her maſts, ſails and rigging, had one of her ſides beat in, and 5 ſeamen, one negro, with all her boats, &c. waſh'd over-board: On friday he came to an anchor off Ediſto; and the ſhip Cunliffe, of Liverpoole, (with Germans from Retterdam) coming to the ſame place in the evening, he with his mate, quitted the Africa, and went on board of her.

Capt. Tedar has loſt his maſts, &c. and carried his veſſel into St. Helena inlet, near which place he met with the hurricane: He ſpoke with the Cunliffe, and a ſloop from Jamaica which ſhe had in tow, one White maſter, that had no maſt, ſail or rigging ſtanding; and alſo with the ſloop Charles-Town, Capt. Steel; which veſſels are now coming in.

A ſloop is ſaid to be aſhore on Long-Iſland; and great quantities of wreck have been met with upon the coaſt.

The Mermaid, and moſt of the other veſſels on ſhore here, may be got off again.

THE South-Carolina GAZETTE.

September 27th, 1752. [NUMB. 954.]

CHARLES-TOWN, September 27.

Yeſterday the General Aſſembly of this Province met purſuant to the Governor's Proclamation; and this Day the Commons Houſe made Choice of the Honorable JAMES MICHIE, Eſq; to be their Speaker (in the Room of the Hon. Andrew Rutledge, Eſq; lately gone off the Province for his Health,) and preſented him to His Excellency, who was pleaſed to approve and confirm their Choice, and to deliver the following SPEECH to both Houſes.

Honorable Gentlemen of His Majeſty's Council, Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen,

WHEN the General Aſſembly meets in Conſequence of the Governor's Summons, it is natural for them to expect, to have the Reaſons laid before them that induced Him to call them together; but the preſent deep Diſtreſs of the Province, ſpeaks thoſe Reaſons, in ſuch plain and moving Language, as renders it almoſt unneceſſary for me to mention them: Whoever opens his Eyes, muſt read them, in too legible Characters, in the Ruin and Deſolation here, and, I fear, in moſt parts of the Country.

It has pleaſed God lately to viſit this Province with a dreadful Hurricane, which proved fatal to the Lives of ſeveral of His Majeſty's Subjects, damaged a great Number of Houſes, greatly demoliſhed our Fortifications, ruined the High Roads, broke down Bridges, and in a great Number of Places ſpoiled the Crops; but who can ſay, to Him that doth according to His Will among the Inhabitants of this Earth, What doſt Thou? Or ſtay His Hand? It is therefore the Duty of all of us, upon this ſolemn and awful Occaſion, to humble ourſelves before Him.

From the Experience of many Years, I am ſenſible of the happy Influence of the Advice and Aſſiſtance of the General Aſſembly, and therefore I the more readily have Recourſe to them: As you are now met, I ſhall recommend Two Heads to you, to be the principal Subjects of your preſent Conſideration. In the firſt Place, we ought to endeavour to render the Lives of His Majeſty's Subjects as ſecure as our preſent Circumſtances will permit, againſt all Attempts from without: In the next Place, we ought to endeavour to make them as comfortable as we can. Fortifications are undoubtedly a great Security againſt any Foreign Force, and, as ours are now ruined, it is my Duty to put you in Mind, that they ſhould be repaired; and I hope, you will make the beſt Proviſion that you are able for this great and neceſſary Work.

In the next Place, I recommend to you, to prepare ſome Law, for preventing the Exportation of Corn, that the Poor may be able to purchaſe Proviſions at a moderate Price: This may be done by a very ſhort, and, I am ſure will be, a very ſalutary Law; and you may aſſure yourſelves of my Vigilance and Care for the due Execution of it.

There are other, I cannot ſay ſmaller, Matters, that alſo require your immediate Attention, Two Veſſels are at preſent in this Harbour, with upward of 800 Foreign Proteſtants on board; and Two others are hourly expected, with the like Number: This will be a conſiderable Addition to our Strength, and if they are comfortably ſettled, they will not only by that Means be kept here, but they will encourage many others to come; but as there is a Paragraph in a late Law relating to this Matter, that has been found to be attended with great Inconveniencies, I muſt recommend to you to reviſe and alter it.

I am loth to accumulate any more Buſineſs, at a Time when your own Affairs make it neceſſary for ſo many of you to be in the Country, but it is proper, at all Times, to have a watchful and attentive Eye upon Indian Affairs, and even the ſettling of thoſe Foreign Proteſtants in proper Places may be made ſubſervient to our Security in that Quarter.

JAMES GLEN.

Toulon, May 7. The utmoſt diligence is uſed to equip the ſquadron which is to put to ſea next month, The Redoutable, of 74 guns, was launch'd on friday, and the Ocean, of 80 guns, will immediately be put on the ſtocks in its place. The Hector is begun upon: So that this department begins to re-aſſume its ancient luſtre. M. Milet de Murot, the king's Inginier in ordinary, ſets out to-morrow for Modena, with commiſſion to accompliſh the works of the port of Lavenza.

Liſbon, May 1. The ſhips which we ſent to the coaſt of Moſambique, to protect our ſettlements, have 1300 regular troops on board, beſides a great number of inginiers, and materials for building the forts which are deſigned to be erected there. As our miniſtry flatters itſelf with receiving great advantages from this colony; the defence of it is looked upon as a matter of importance.

Ratiſbon, May 22. The affair of East-Frieſland makes a great noiſe in the dyet; the king of Great-Britain, as elector of Hanover, having deſired that it ſhould be taken into conſideration, the dyet has for ſome days paſt proceeded thereupon. The miniſter of Brandenbourgh, pretending that this affair ſhould have been previouſly communicated to him, has made a very ſtrong proteſt againſt the dyet's proceeding: The conſequence of this affair fixes the attention of the public.

Stockholm, May 16. It is decided, that the marriage of Guſtavus, Prince-royal of Sweden, with the princeſs Sophia Magdalen, of Denmark, ſhall take place as ſoon as the parties ſhall have attained the age requiſite.

London, May 28. On the 1ſt of June, according to an act of Parliament, the vigorous proſecutions againſt the houſes of ill fame is to commence; the Juſtices have now more power in their hands to ſuppreſs them, and the virtuous part of mankind are in hopes of finding our ſtreets clear of thoſe Nuſance to ſociety. To ſuppreſs the receptacles of lewdneſs entirely, in a city at once ſo vicious and oppulent as this, is impoſſible; but it is greatly in the power of the conſtables and other Officers of the night, to ſtop the wandering ſtars in their progreſs; for every creature ſo abandoned as to walk the ſtreets, carries in her air, dreſs, and behaviour, the marks of proſtitution ſo very ſtrong, that a man any way acquainted with the town, can ſcarcely miſtake them. It is from theſe wretches that the calamities of incontinence are chiefly derived; while people are walking ſoberly home to their houſes, and without any thought of lewdneſs, thoſe enemies of the ſpecies, entrap them as they walk, excite them by affected blandiſhments to accompany them home, and then inflame them to a dangerous embrace. By theſe means the bodies of our youth are enervated, their minds diſſipated in luxurious pleaſures, and a general ſpirit of profaneneſs and irreligion lays the foundation of ruining our ſtate.

They write from Hamburgh, that a certain minister lately sent to the court of Brunswick, from that of Denmark, has instructions to negotiate a marriage for the king his master, with a princess of that illustrious house, which will be highly acceptable to the friends of the liberty and tranquillity of Germany.

From Guiney, we have an account, that a sufficient number of men are employed to repair the several forts on that coast belonging to the British settlements.

We hear that two of the men of war fitting out are intended solely to protect the fisheries on the banks of Newfoundland.

CHARLES-TOWN, Sept. 26.

The Honorable CHARLES PINCKNEY, Esq; has received a Commission, appointing him Chief Justice of this Province, in the Room of the Hon^ble. James Graime, Esq; lately deceased. And

The Hon^ble. JAMES MICHIE, Esq; is appointed Judge of the Admiralty.

On Tuesday last arrived here the ship Cunliffe, Capt. Clayton, from Rotterdam, whith near 500 German passengers.

The ship Lucy, Capt. Bulman, has been got off since our last; as are also two of our pilot-boats, the schooner that lay against the old Custom-house door, and 2 or 3 other small schooners: And they are now endeavouring to get off Captains James, Manley, and Cregier's vessels, besides some of those that are athore on James-Island.

In the late hurricane, hardly a house was left standing on White-Point; the batteries near Mr. Mortimore's, Mr. Rattray's garden (in which was a magazine of gun-powder,) and upon Conselliere's creek, were entirely beat down and carried away; the greatest part of Broughton's battery was beat to pieces; and the new works on the land side of this town, received considerable damage.

The ship Telemachus, of Liverpool, Capt. Fearnaught, that lay at Mr. Child's bluff, 20 miles up Ashley-River, broke all her holds, and was drove upon the marsh opposite the said bluff; and the ship Eagle-Galley, Capt. Timothy M'Daniel, (which lay [illegible] the same place) was drove almost as high as Dorchester, into Col. Izard's creek. The ship Owners Goodwill, Capt. Moreland, was drove against Mr. Cattell's bluff in the beginning of the hurricane, and off again when the wind shifted.

The brigt. Experiment, Edward Carleton Master, from Barbados for Georgia, has been spoke with on the coast, since the hurricane, all well on board.

The Bristol Merchant, Parsons, and the Nancy, Copythorn, were well at Port-Royal since the hurricane, having rode it out; as did also the Nancy, Capt. Conner, at Winyaw, which sails this week for Bristol.

We hear that the ship of Capt. Dorrington, mentioned in our last, still lies at anchor off Edisto, about 4 miles from the shore.

From Georgia we hear, that the late hurricane has been felt there, and incredible damage done to the trees, but that no house or vessel was hurt; and that the tide there was 4 feet lower than usual.
